Meet: Ben & Aurielle Martin

Ben and Aurielle both grew up in Clear Spring, MD. They met in a chemistry lab in 2008. Sparks were flying in that chemistry lab as they continued to date for ten years. Last April, Ben and Aurielle got married and these newlyweds have been married for exactly one year. They now live in Hagerstown, near State Line.

Ben is a project manager for Callas and he's in charge of building the new Barbara Ingram School For the Arts in downtown Hagerstown. Aurielle is a physician assistant in family practice with Dr. Ciccarelli in Williamsport.

The Martin's have been coming to Hollowell for three months. They were looking for a church family where they belong and both feel that they can be spiritually led to grow together. They are excited that they found that here at Hollowell!

For fun they enjoy family board game nights and all kinds of outdoor activities on the farm. They are hoping that the Lord blesses them with LOTS of children.

They have recently been inspired by one of the sessions in their new small group to do "uncomfortable things" and not just what's easy.
